

Meeting Agenda

September 16–17, 2026

Tallinn, Estonia

Over two days, we come together in Tallinn to share progress, exchange ideas, and strengthen collaboration across the PICKED network. This meeting brings together doctoral candidates, supervisors, and invited experts for a focused programme combining scientific presentations, training sessions, and discussions on innovation and translation.

Doctoral candidates will present their latest research, covering topics from urinary biomarkers and peptidomics to computational modelling and clinical decision-making in pediatric kidney disease. These sessions will be complemented by expert lectures on entrepreneurship, intellectual property, and the translation of scientific discoveries into real-world applications.

With contributions spanning academia, industry, and clinical practice, the meeting provides a platform to connect scientific advances with practical implementation, from biomarker validation to personalized treatment strategies.

Together, we continue to advance personalized medicine in kidney disease — linking research, innovation, and impact.
